City authorities worldwide have realized the damage urine can do to public or historic buildings and in more and more cities around the globe officials are looking for easy solutions to counter men's habit of urinating in "dark street corners".

The URICLEAN 3-men portable urinal stand has long served portable toilet operators when quoting for large outdoor events : when organizers were not ready to hire the amount of portable toilets needed, you were often able to offer urinals as an extra service.

They are easy to move, service and clean and increase the flow of users through regular portable toilets. Now you can also use the URICLEAN to talk to those city officials who are fighting back against uncontrolled urinating.

Compared to other portable urinal stands, the Uriclean :

- is a lighter unit
- is easier to move (can be "rolled" on its base)
- has more privacy, more user room
- has much higher forklift clearance
- has easier access to the inside of the tank

Easy yet secured access to the tank. No special tools required.

Big diameter service hole for easy cleaning and good access to bottles or cans thrown inside tank.
